Plain dial watches are out of date
Once you carry an Ingersoll Radiolite you will wonder how you ever got along with your plain dial watch.

The glowing hands and figures shine out brightly in the dark. In fact, the darker the street, movie, or room, the brighter they shine. That's because Ingersoll Radiolites are coated with a substance containing radium whose glow will last from eight to ten years.

The Ingersoll Radiolite is a good looking watch and a popular size. It is guaranteed to keep accurate time.
